^ The Administration has provided 800 additional research postgraduate places by phases starting from the 2009/10 academic year. As these places were categorised by the institutions into 17 major Academic Programme Categories (APC) where social work discipline was covered by the Social Sciences APC, the UGC does not have the actual number of student places out of the 800 research postgraduate places allocated to social work disciplines. As such, the figures in the above tables have not included the 800 extra places.
