Notes:

1. As students of the HKU SPACE attend classes at both the North Point and Kowloon Bay Campuses, this figure is the sum of all students using these two premises.
2. As students of the SCE of HKBU attend classes at both the Shek Mun and the Kowloon Tong Campuses, this figure is the sum of all students using these two premises.
The loans approved only cover the operation of sub-degree programmes, but the borrowing institution stated when applying for the loans that the Shek Mun Campus would accommodate a small number of undergraduate and postgraduate students.
3. Apart from the premises concerned, students of the Community College at LU also use some of LU's facilities and attend classes at other education centres.
4. The VTC made early repayment of the loan in March 2012 and intends to accommodate some of the undergraduate students of the Technological and Higher Education Institute of Hong Kong at the premises concerned starting from the 2012/13 academic year.

5. Caritas – Hong Kong obtained approval from the Education Bureau (EDB) in 2009 to operate other locally-accredited self-financing programmes which meet the land lease conditions using the unoccupied areas of the premises concerned.
6. PolyU obtained approval from the EDB in 2009 to operate other locally-accredited self-financing programmes which meet the land lease conditions using the extra construction space of the premises concerned.
7. CUTW obtained approval from the EDB in 2007 and 2011 respectively to let the unoccupied areas of the premises concerned to other course operators for operating locally-accredited self-financing programmes which meet the land lease conditions. This figure only includes the number of CUTW students. The CUTW will cease operation from the 2013/14 academic year. The TWGHs is planning to change the use of the premises to operating the Tung Wah College.
8. CityU obtained approval from the EDB in 2012 to operate other locally-accredited self-financing programmes which meet the land lease conditions using some of the areas of the premises concerned.
9. Hang Seng School of Commerce obtained support from the EDB in 2011 for operating the Hang Seng Management College in the existing premises. The sub-degree programmes are now offered by the Hang Seng Management College at the academic building.
