Notes

N/A indicates that no such programme is offered by the institution.

Note 1 : () represents enrolment deposits that have not eventually become part of the tuition fees.

Note 2 : Enrolment deposits serve as the first instalment of tuition fees.

Note 3 : The institution does not have a breakdown of such fees or has not provided such figures.

Note 4 : The City University of Hong Kong collected the first instalment of tuition fees after the commencement of the academic year.

Note 5 : Students admitted to the Community College of City University are required to pay an enrolment deposit of $4,500 and the first instalment of tuition fees of $18,000, i.e. $22,500 in total, before the commencement of the academic year. Upon paying the above fees, they become College students and may use the school facilities and have access to the time tables of classes with a student ID card. Students who wish to withdraw from the programme enrolled or request a refund of tuition fees must submit a written application to the College. Under normal circumstances, students will be granted a full refund of tuition fees if they are admitted to a University Grants Committee-funded undergraduate programme or a funded programme under the Study Subsidy Scheme for Designated Professions/Sectors via the Joint University Programmes Admissions System (JUPAS). The College will process refund applications on a discretionary basis for students who do not meet the above requirements but wish to get a refund of the tuition fees paid due to financial difficulties. In the 2015/16 academic year, about 400 refund requests were received by the College and less than 2% were not granted a refund.

Note 6 : For the University of Hong Kong (HKU) - School of Professional and Continuing Education (SPACE), HKU SPACE Community College and the HKU SPACE Po Leung Kuk Stanley Ho Community College, enrolment deposits form part of the first instalment of tuition fees. "Enrolment deposits" are not discounted from the amounts shown under "First instalment of Tuition Fees"/ "Tuition Fees Forfeited for Declining Offers".

Note 7 : Top-up degree programmes are not included.

Note 8 : Tuition fees paid by non-local students are not included.

Note 9 : The requirement for payment of the first instalment of tuition fees by applicants before registration was introduced in the 2013/14 academic year.

Note 10 : It refers to the balance of tuition fees for the first semester after deducting the enrolment deposit. "First instalment of tuition fee" refers to the balance of tuition fees to be charged for the first semester (i.e. the total amount of tuition fees for the first semester minus the enrolment deposit) before the commencement of the academic year.

Note 11 : "Tuition Fees Forfeited for Declining Offers" refers to the balance of tuition fees (enrolment deposit not included) not refunded because of withdrawal from the programme concerned before the commencement of the academic year.

Note 12 : It refers to the balance of tuition fees for the first semester after deducting the enrolment deposit. For the Hong Kong Community College, the deadline for payment for the 2012/13 academic year was 17 October 2012; for the 2013/14 to 2015/16 academic years, the deadlines for payment were set at mid-August.

Note 13 : The Hong Kong Community College follows the guidelines promulgated by the EDB: all students eligible for a refund (i.e. those who are admitted to a UGC-funded programme or a programme under the Study Subsidy Scheme for Designated Professions/Sectors and have applied for the refund before the deadline) will be granted a refund of tuition fees after the deduction of an administration fee ($250).

Note 14 : It refers to the tuition fees paid by applicants when submitting their admission application forms to the Open University of Hong Kong direct.

Note 15 : After the first tranche of tuition fees for the 2015/16 academic year is cleared, there is no "Tuition Fees Forfeited for Declining Offers" for Tung Wah College.

Note 16 : For the Vocational Training Council, all enrolment deposits will automatically become part of the tuition fees after the commencement of the academic year, regardless of whether the students concerned take up the programme in the end.
