

All air crew members who have stayed in any places outside China during the 21 days prior to arrival in Hong Kong

---

- All air crew members must self-isolate at the hotel until their next duty flight and travel by point-to-point transportation arranged by airlines whilst laying over in any places outside China;
- All air crew members who have stayed in extremely high risk places and very high risk places (i.e. Group A and Group B specified places under the Prevention and Control of Disease (Regulation of Cross-boundary Conveyances and Travellers) Regulation (Cap. 599H) (hereinafter “Group A specified places”/”Group B specified places”)), they must possess a negative result of SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test done at an ISO15189-accredited laboratory or a laboratory recognised by the Government where the laboratory is located with the specimen collected within 48 hours prior to the scheduled departure time of the flight to Hong Kong for duty (except local based air crew members and freight crew members);
- All air crew members must take a post-arrival SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test at the Department of Health's (DH) Temporary Specimen Collection Centre (TSCC) and wait for the results there or any other location as designated by DH upon arrival at HKIA;
- After undergoing testing and immigration procedures, air crew members must use the designated channel to arrive the pick-up point and travel to their accommodation (or designated location to wait for the test result) by point-to-point transportation;
- All air crew members who have stayed in Group A specified places during the 21 days prior to arrival in Hong Kong, they must subject to self-isolation at designated quarantine hotel for 21 days and undergo testing on the 12th and 19th or 20th day following their arrival in Hong Kong;
- All air crew members who have stayed in any places outside China (but have not stayed in Group A specified places) must self-isolate at the airport hotel arranged by airlines after undergoing testing until next departure flight; and
- If the aforementioned air crew members are local based crew who wish to leave the airport, they must self-isolate at designated quarantine hotel for 14 days (including undergoing testing on the 12th day following their arrival) before entering the local community. They must also subject to 7-day medical surveillance afterwards (including undergoing testing on the 15th and 19th or 20th day following their arrival) before operating again. Freight crew, who have laid over in Anchorage in Alaska of the United States of America and subject to closed-loop management in segregation<sup>i</sup> from the local community during the layover, will be exempted and they will not be subject to self-isolation at designated quarantine hotel. They will still be subject to 21-day medical surveillance.

All air crew members who have stayed in China during the 21 days (and have not stayed in any places outside China) prior to arrival in Hong Kong

---

- All air crew members must take a post-arrival SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test at the DH's TSCC and wait for the results there or any other location as designated by DH upon arrival at HKIA;
- After undergoing testing and immigration procedures, air crew members must use the designated channel to arrive the pick-up point and travel to their accommodation (or designated location to wait for the test result) by point-to-point transportation;
- All air crew members must self-isolate and wait for the test result at the airport hotel arranged by airlines until departure for their next duty flight; and
- If the aforementioned air crew members are local based crew who wish to leave the airport, they must undergo testing on the 7th and 12th (if applicable) following their arrival in Hong Kong during their 14-day medical surveillance period (or before their next duty flight).

All signing-off sea crew members for crew change for goods vessels for cargo operation who have stayed in any places outside China during the 21 days prior to arrival in Hong Kong

---

- All signing-off sea crew members for crew change must possess a negative result of SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test done at an ISO15189-accredited laboratory or a laboratory recognised by the Government where the laboratory is located within 72 hours prior to the vessel's scheduled time of arrival at Hong Kong or the shipping companies/agents should arrange the signing-off sea crew to take a SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test by one of the recognised testing institutions in Hong Kong, and these crew members will need to stay on board until negative result is available;
- If the aforementioned signing-off sea crew members for crew change for goods vessels are Hong Kong residents and will stay in Hong Kong after signing off, in addition to complying the above conditions, they must use the point-to-point transportation to travel to the designated quarantine hotels from designated pick-up point to undergo 21-day compulsory quarantine as with other inbound travelers; and

- Signing-on crew members arriving at the airport by flights from other places should possess a negative result of COVID-19 nucleic acid test with the specimen collected within 48 hours prior to the scheduled departure time for duty and must take a post-arrival SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test at the DH's TSCC and wait for the results there. After testing and immigration procedures, they must use the designated channel to arrive the pick-up point and travel to their vessels by point-to-point transportation.

Other exempted persons (all exempted persons other than air crew and sea crew) who have stayed in any places outside China during the 21 days prior to arrival in Hong Kong

---

- All other exempted persons who have stayed in Group A and Group B specified places must possess a negative result of SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test done at an ISO15189-accredited laboratory or a laboratory recognised by the Government where the laboratory is located with the specimen collected within 48 hours prior to the scheduled departure time of the flight to Hong Kong;
- They must take a post-arrival SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test at the DH's TSCC and wait for the results there or any other location as designated by DH upon arrival at HKIA;
- After undergoing testing and immigration procedures, they must use the designated channel to arrive the pick-up point and take point-to-point transportation;
- For exempted persons who have stayed in Group A specified places during the 21 days prior to arrival in Hong Kong, they must subject to self-isolation at designated quarantine hotel for 21 days and undergo testing on the 12th and 19th or 20th day following their arrival in Hong Kong;
- Except Consul Generals or representatives in Hong Kong and government officials at equivalent/higher level, all other government officials carrying out governmental duties who have stayed in Group B specified places must be subject to self-isolation for 21 days at an accommodation arranged by respective organisations;
- Exempted persons must undergo testing on the 7th, 12th, 15th and 19th or 20th day following their arrival in Hong Kong; and
- Respective organisations must arrange point-to-point transportation for the exempted persons. The use of public transport is prohibited.

Other exempted persons (all exempted persons other than air crew and sea crew)

who have stayed in China (and have not stayed in any places outside China) during the 21 days prior to arrival in Hong Kong

---

- They must take a post-arrival SARS-CoV-2 nucleic acid test at the DH's TSCC and wait for the results there or any other location as designated by DH upon arrival at HKIA;
- After undergoing testing and immigration procedures, they must use the designated channel to arrive the pick-up point and take point-to-point transportation;
- Exempted persons must undergo testing on the 12th day following their arrival in Hong Kong; and
- Respective organisations must arrange point-to-point transportation for the exempted persons. The use of public transport is prohibited.

---

<sup>i</sup> During their stay in Anchorage, Alaska of the United States of America, air crew members can only travel between the airport and dedicated hotels by point-to-point transportation arranged by the airline. Airlines are required to arrange a specific floor/room for its crew members in the dedicated hotel and provide pre-check-in and check-out arrangements. During their stay in Anchorage, air crew members are not allowed to leave the room until they return to the airport for next cargo duty flight to Hong Kong. Air crew members shall not contact with local residents during their stay in Anchorage and airlines shall arrange designated group of air crew members to operate cargo flights between Hong Kong and Anchorage if practicable.