

(Translation)

Hon Benson LUK's motion on “Formulating a policy and a blueprint on facilitating young people's upward mobility”

Wording of the Motion

That Hong Kong will prosper only when its young people thrive, and our country will be strong only when its young people are strong; the new-term SAR Government attaches great importance to youth development, and makes strenuous efforts to create opportunities for upward mobility for young people; in this connection, this Council urges that the SAR Government should, under the Youth Development Blueprint to be published, actively assist young people in overcoming their practical difficulties in education, career pursuits, entrepreneurship and home ownership, and provide more room for young people to participate in public affairs so that they can actively engage themselves in the development of Hong Kong and have more options for their future, thereby facilitating active integration of Hong Kong young people into the national development, broadening their global perspectives, and enabling them to tell China's story and Hong Kong's story well and contribute to the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation together.