@ BD does not keep, amongst which, breakdown statistics on the number of removal orders issued against unauthorised addition of storeys.

As the handling of a case may straddle different years, the numbers of orders complied with, prosecutions, UBWs removed and rectified in a year may not correspond with the removal orders issued within the same year. Therefore, it is not appropriate to deduce the annual compliance percentage based on the above figures.

* As the handling of a case may straddle different years, the numbers of land clearance cases and prosecutions in a year may not correspond with the number of substantiated cases of unlawful occupation of government land within the same year.

^ During inspection, LandsD, where appropriate, will warn the occupier on the spot to cease occupation of the government land. If the occupation has ceased before the posting of a statutory notice by LandsD, the statutory notice will not be posted. The figures in this row include both cases involving and not involving the posting of statutory notices. LandsD does not maintain a breakdown of these two types of cases.
