Hon Nixie LAM's motion on “Policies on supporting assisted reproduction”

Wording of the Motion

That, given that Hong Kong's fertility rate has persistently remained low, this Council urges the Government to formulate measures to enhance assisted reproductive services, such as extending the 10-year storage period of oocytes, increasing the quotas of in-vitro fertilization clinic or subfertility assessment clinic services in public healthcare institutions and providing subsidies to members of the public who use assisted reproductive technologies, so as to encourage childbearing.
