Hon YUNG Hoi-yan's motion on “Actively exploring Hong Kong's new economic growth points”

Wording of the Motion

That in order to cope with the continuous changes in the global economic landscape, this Council urges the Government, while reinforcing the strengths of traditional industries, to actively explore new economic growth points, for example, by capitalizing on its advantages of enjoying strong support of the motherland and being closely connected to the world to promote development in areas such as innovation and technology, the space economy, the halal industry, professional certification services, financial innovation, green industries, cultural and creative industries, and the sports industry, and by strengthening participation in the Belt and Road Initiative to complement our country's efforts in advancing the cause of 'Global South', with a view to deepening our ties with the Mainland and international markets and further enhancing Hong Kong's global influence.
