Currency Board Sub-Committee

Report on Currency Board Operations

Review period: 30 December 2025 – 22 April 2026

During the review period, the Hong Kong dollar (HKD) traded within a range of 7.7818 – 7.8387 against the US dollar (USD). The HKD eased in early 2026 as HKD interbank rates (HIBORs) softened upon the fading of year-end funding demand, thereby increasing the incentive for carry trade activities. With uncertainty arising from the Middle East conflict in early March, investors unwound short HKD positions and drove the HKD stronger. Nonetheless, carry trade activities incentivised by HKD interest rates moving lower than their USD peers have brought the HKD weaker, and the thin liquidity due to global risk-off sentiment has exaggerated the spot price movements. Towards the quarter end, the HKD rebounded slightly due to the unwinding short positions as short-dated interest rates firmed. While HIBORs generally track their USD counterparts under the Linked Exchange Rate System, they are also influenced by the local supply and demand of HKD funding. Capital market-related HKD funding demand subsided amid the escalating geopolitical risk in the Middle East. HKD short-dated interest rates eased gradually in response, before firming again towards the quarter end and remaining firm thereafter. Overall, the HKD and the HKD interbank market continued to trade in a smooth and orderly manner. The Convertibility Undertakings (CUs) were not triggered and the Aggregate Balance was stable at HK$54 billion. No abnormality was noted in the usage of the Discount Window. Throughout the review period, the Monetary Base remained fully backed by USD foreign reserves, and all changes in the Monetary Base were fully matched by corresponding changes in USD foreign reserves in accordance with Currency Board principles.

Hong Kong dollar exchange rate

1. During the review period of 30 December 2025 to 22 April 2026, the HKD traded within a range of 7.7818 – 7.8387 against the USD (Chart 1).<sup>1</sup> The HKD eased in early 2026 as softened short-term interest rates increased the incentive for carry trade activities. With uncertainty arising from the Middle East conflict in early March, investors unwound short HKD positions and drove the HKD stronger. Nonetheless, carry trade activities incentivised by HKD interest rates moving lower than their USD peers have brought the HKD weaker, and the thin liquidity due to global risk-off sentiment has exaggerated the spot price movements. Towards the quarter end, the HKD rebounded slightly due to the unwinding of short positions as short-dated interest rates firmed. Overall, the HKD continued to trade in a smooth and orderly manner during the review period, closing at 7.8319 on 22 April. The nominal effective exchange rate index of the HKD decreased compared with the end of the preceding review period (Chart 2). This mainly reflected the movement of the USD against the currencies of the major trading partners of Hong Kong.

<sup>1</sup> In this report, daily time series charts also cover developments in the preceding review period (as shown in the shaded region) for reference and comparison.

Interest rates

2. The HKD interbank market continued to trade in a smooth and orderly manner. HIBORs eased in early 2026 upon the fading of year-end funding demand. Capital market-related HKD funding demand subsided amid the escalating geopolitical risk in the Middle East. HKD short-dated interest rates eased gradually in response, before firming again towards the quarter end and remaining firm thereafter. For the review period as a whole, the 1-month HIBOR and 3-month HIBOR decreased by 80 basis points and 45 basis points to 2.50% and 2.60% respectively (Chart 3). Meanwhile, the overnight HIBOR decreased to 2.00% at the end of the review period.

3. Interest rate volatility, measured by the standard deviation of daily changes in the 1-month HIBOR, decreased to 15 basis points (or 0.15%) in the current review period from 16 basis points (or 0.16%) in the preceding review period (Chart 4). Meanwhile, the standard deviation as a ratio of the average of the 1-month HIBOR hovered at a relatively low level.<sup>2</sup>

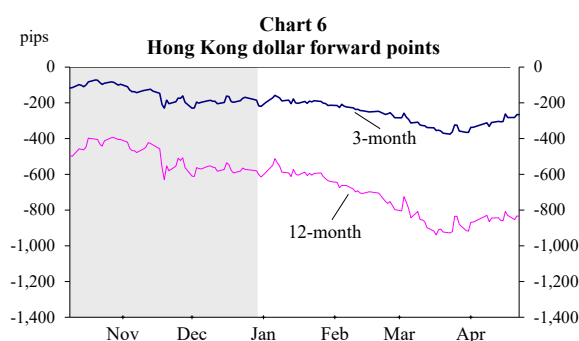

<sup>2</sup> The ratio of the standard deviation of daily changes in the 1-month HIBOR to its monthly average measures the extent of interest rate fluctuations relative to the average level of interest rates.

4. The short-term negative HKD-USD interest rate spreads generally widened during the review period (Chart 5). <sup>3</sup> The overnight and 1-month spreads closed at -164 basis points and -115 basis points at the end of the review period.

5. Both 3-month and 12-month forward discounts widened, closing at 266 pips and 835 pips respectively at the end of the review period (Chart 6).

6. During the review period, HKD yield curve shifted downwards (Chart 7). The yield of the 1-year Exchange Fund Bill decreased by 17 basis points to 2.25% at the end of the review period, and that of the 10-year Hong Kong Government Bond decreased by 18 basis points to 2.87%. Meanwhile, the negative HKD-USD yield spreads of all tenors widened (Table 1).

7. During the review period, the target range for the US Federal Funds Rate remained unchanged at 3.50% – 3.75%. As such, the HKMA Base Rate remained

	30 Dec 25	22 Apr 26
3-month EFB	-118	-150
12-month EFB	-105	-144
3-year HKGB	-106	-159
5-year HKGB	-106	-159
10-year HKGB	-110	-143

<sup>3</sup> The USD London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) has been discontinued since 1 July 2023 and replaced by the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (SOFR) as its alternative reference rate.

unchanged at 4.00% according to the established formula (Chart 8), with the Base Rate set at either 50 basis points above the lower end of the prevailing target range for the US federal funds rate or the average of the 5-day moving averages of the overnight and 1-month HIBORs, whichever is the higher.

8. During the review period, banks kept their Best Lending Rates unchanged. The Best Lending Rates in the market continued to range from 5.00% – 5.50%. The average interest rate for newly approved mortgage loans remained virtually unchanged at 3.26% between December 2025 and February 2026. Meanwhile, the average 1-month HKD time deposit board rate offered by retail banks decreased from 0.10% to 0.07% during the review period.<sup>4</sup> The composite interest rate,<sup>5</sup> which indicates the average funding cost of retail banks, decreased from 1.36% at the end of December 2025 to 1.25% at the end of March 2026 (Chart 9).

<sup>5</sup> This is a weighted average interest rate of all HKD interest-rate-sensitive liabilities, which include deposits from customers, amounts due to banks, negotiable certificates of deposit and other debt instruments, and all other liabilities that do not involve any formal payment of interest but the values of which are sensitive to interest rate movements (such as HKD non-interest bearing demand deposits) on the books of banks. Data from retail banks, which account for about 90% of the total customers' deposits in the banking sector, are used in the calculation.
